Exercise 2:

For clear images with few objects, these are segmented with the algorithm without problems.

For pictures with several objects or with frontal view, instead of front view, it is very difficult to find the individual objects.

Furthermore, the objects are not completely segmented in the case of bright or foggy images

For cityscences the houses cannot be recorded and segmented at all.
The lighting and the view of the pictures and objects therefore have an important role.